

AMERICA'S IRE AROUSED OVER ALLIES' ACTION

Europe's Ignoring of U. S. Claim for Military Draws Fire

WORK IS STARTED Attitude That "America Can Wait" Is Held Untenable

Washington, March 14.—A new series of diplomatic exchanges which will speak the American attitude toward European affairs with more vigor than anything that has gone before is about to open up as a result of the allied governments, splitting a billion gold marks between themselves and ignoring America's claim for reimbursement for the American army of occupation.

High administration officials stated today that "strong representations" will be made in the matter of the official report from Roland W. Boyden, the American representative on the reparations commission, confirms the attitude of the allies that has been reported in press dispatches. This attitude apparently is, officials said, that "America can wait," or if not caring to wait, can proceed to collect from impoverished Germany direct.

It is the evident intention of the allied governments, as seen by officials here, to deny that the United States has any rights at all under the treaty of Versailles because the allies failed to ratify the pact.

This position is untenable according to administration officials because Europe has already tacitly admitted American rights under the treaty in the case of the mandated islands. It was American insistence upon these rights that resulted in the recognition of an American claim on the island of Yap subsequently resulting in the Yap treaty.

While administration officials have frequently been "riled" over European affairs in the last year, nothing has so aroused their ire as the perfidious turn down accorded the demand for a share of Germany's indemnity to meet the Rhine costs. "Absurd," "ridiculous," "unbelievable" and "incredible" are some of the terms applied to the allied attitude.

The threatened controversy over the cost of upkeep is expected to result in a demand from congress that the Rhine reduction be accelerated, 25 not accomplished entirely.

NAME PERSONNEL OF DELEGATION

London, March 14.—The tentative personnel of the British delegation to the international economic conference at Genoa was outlined today as follows:

Premier Lloyd George; Foreign Secretary Lord Curzon; Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Robert Horne and Secretary of War Sir Laming Worthington-Evans.

It was stated in Paris, yesterday that Premier Poincare would not attend the conference. The foregoing dispatch shows that Britain is sending her strongest statement.

Lenine Although Ill Is Working On His Book Explaining New Plan

Moscow, March 14.—Nicolai Lenine, head of the soviet government of Russia, is still in his country retreat recuperating from illness. He is suffering from insomnia and a nervous complaint, but it does not deter him from working on his new book which explains the long cherished plan of the third international to unite all the workers into one big international group.

The soviet chief's country estate was formerly owned by a millionaire flax merchant; it is about 20 miles from this city. It has been reported that Lenine was about to die but a trip over this week and proved this rumor to be absolutely wrong.

Lenine's physicians have ordered him to remain in the country as long as possible and to remain away from politics. Despite those instructions the bolshevik chief is receiving reports on preparations for the Genoa conference which are being carried out by the trade experts and by Georges Tchitcherine, commissar for foreign affairs. He spends many hours a day writing. The bolshevik leader spends an hour or two every day shooting rabbits, a sport he is very fond of. His liking for this recreation dates back to the days of his Siberian exile, when he used to relieve the tedium of his life by hunting. Unlike most of the other political exiles, Lenine was not sentenced to labor in the Siberian mines.

Reports that Lenine was about to die and go insane were prevalent in Moscow as well as in the outside capitals. They had been current here for months despite the appearance in the bolshevik press of articles written by Lenine.

Ghandi, Indian Leader, Now Under Arrest.

Mohandas K. Ghandi, leader of the Non-Co-operationist Party in India, has been placed under arrest by Government forces. The political ramifications of Ghandi, who is considered a saint by many Indians, have kept India in a turmoil. Lord Reading, British Viceroy of the country, and the Indian Government have been loath to arrest the Mahatma, because he is believed by the natives to possess miraculous powers and exerts great influence throughout India. He has urged his followers to withdraw their support of British administration.

CHECK UP ON AUTO THEFT CONFESSIONS

Dayton, March 14.—Police in other cities today are co-operating with the local department in checking up confessions made by Charles Maston, 35 and Charles Connell both of Richmond, that they stole at least 29 automobiles in this and other Ohio and Indiana towns and cities.

They admitted taking nine cars in Dayton, one car was sold and afterwards stolen four different times. The two prisoners are declared to be the ring leaders of a notorious gang. Whether they have involved any others in the alleged ring was not disclosed by the police.

PREMIER NOW LEADING SIMPLE LIFE IN WALES

Criccieth, Wales, March 14.—Premier Lloyd George, secure from the turmoil of politics, has turned to the simple life to regain his health. Part of the time today the premier helped plant potatoes. Dressed in an old golf suit, his hands soiled with dirt, the premier worked in the fields and enjoyed himself immensely. He said he was feeling fine. Mrs. Lloyd George helped her husband.

MORE POWER GRANTED

Belfast, March 14.—Additional powers have been granted to the Unionist government of Ulster province, by putting down disorders. It was revealed today when King George's speech was read opening the northern parliament. The king expressed the hope that the violence which has been occurring with distressing frequency will cease. The speech from the throne was well received.

Lenine Although Ill Is Working On His Book Explaining New Plan

It is generally admitted that Lenine today faces one of the hardest jobs of his arduous and spectacular career, that of maintaining discipline in the communist party. A party conference is about to be held to consider the situation. The new policy of the bolshevik regime and the famine have been responsible for political corruption, specially among communist officials which Lenine is determined to wipe out, if possible. He wants "a clean up" of the party to bolster the general morale.

ELEVEN WOMEN MARRY WORKER WHO CONFESSES

Isaiah Moore, Social Leader, and Church Member Held on Charge.

FORGETS NAMES

Last Wife Proves Stumbling Block and His Arrest Follows.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 14.—Confessed "husband" of at least eleven women, Isaiah Moore, church member and social leader in the towns where his numerous marriages occurred, today, faced prosecution on charges of bigamy and embezzlement.

Meanwhile Moore is trying to recall the names of two of his eleven or more "wives" and the alias under which he married some of the others. His only excuse for his actions, according to detectives is that he has for years been a victim of nervous disorders, induced by a blow on the head with a baseball bat when he was a boy. He is now 32.

It was Miss Evans or Mrs. Moore No. 11, who brought about Moore's arrest. Miss Evans, now a high school teacher in a northern Indiana town, said they were married at Vincennes and came to Indianapolis and that after less than a week of married life, Moore deserted her and departed with $500 of the money. Operatives of a detective agency who traced Moore to Logansport, thence to Minneapolis, where he had become superintendent of a baking plant, declared he was engaged to marry a Minneapolis girl. Their marriage was to have occurred today they said. During the brief interval here when he remained with the eleventh wife according to the detective, Moore proposed marriage to three women.

MEXICAN REBELS ROUTED IN CLASH WITH GOVERNMENT

Activities of Anti-Federal Forces Are Growing It Is Indicated.

Mexico City, March 14.—Rebel troops in the state of Michoacan are becoming more active and news was received here today of several skirmishes and one battle. Insurrectos led by Antonio Julizar and Francisco Cardenas, after laying siege to several villages, attacked and captured the town of Capaharo. They were sacking the place when federal troops came up. A number of the rebels were killed and wounded and the remainder were driven off. They are now being pursued in the hills.

ANTHRACITE MINE OPERATORS MEET WORKERS IN EAST

Preliminary Plans Being Whipped Into Shape for Conference.

New York, March 14.—Anthracite operators and mine workers have whipped into shape preliminary plans for the opening of their conference tomorrow. General committees on each side have conferred and await the call that places them on opposite sides of the conference table.

The opening session will bring together the general committees but the main work will be later carried on by sub-committees, four from the side of the operators and four or five from the mine workers. On the eve of the sessions, friendliness prevails. This does not indicate that the conference will not be spirited. Presentation of the miners' demands for an increase of twenty per cent in wages is very apt to bring from the operators the flat statement that they are not present to discuss increases.

PUBLISHERS ASK FOR RELIEF FROM RATES

Washington, March 14.—The American publishers conference, representing 20,000 newspapers and magazines today appealed to congress for relief from excessive burdens imposed by high postal rates in the war revenue bill of 1917. The publishers contended that the existing rates were intended as a war emergency and that the failure to repeal them is "highly discriminatory and unjust" to the reading public.

JOHANNESBURG REBEL FORCES ARE DEFEATED

Backbone of Labor Revolution in South Africa Has Been Broken.

MAKE LAST STAND

Government Troops Begin Siege of Fordsburg Early Tuesday.

Johannesburg, South Africa, March 14.—The backbone of the labor revolution has been broken, according to all indications today. The rebel forces in the eastern and western parts of the Rand mine fields are being surrounded.

A grand assault upon the rebel works defending Fordsburg was undertaken at 11 o'clock.

It was reported that the government commander sent word to the rebels to remove all women and children from Fordsburg as the place was to be bombarded and put under siege.

The rebels pressed civilians into labor squads to strengthen the defenses. Defeated on all fronts, the rebels were making their last stand at Fordsburg with every prospect that even this position would be lost within 48 hours.

SUPREME COURT OF STATE UPHOLDS CASE

Columbus, March 14.—The state supreme court today affirmed the action of the Montgomery County Appellate Court which dismissed the mandamus suit instituted in that court by Ferdinand S. Van Harlingen, who sought to compel the board of education of Mad River township to erect a single building for the accommodation of the school children of sub districts Nos. 2 and 6, and to restrain the board from carrying out its plan of contracting for the purchase of two sites or erecting two buildings. The Appellate Court ruled that injunction proceedings was the proper remedy.

WIDOW OF CIRCUS MAN ADMITS HE ONCE SHOT HER DURING A BITTER QUARREL

Mrs. John T. Brunnen Declares She Is In Dark as To Identity of Slayer of Husband, Who, She Says, Had Violent Temper.

Mt. Holly, N. J., March 14.—Mrs. John T. Brunnen, widow of the circus man who was slain in the identical manner as William Desmond Taylor of Los Angeles, today, admitted that her husband had wounded her with a revolver during a quarrel.

Sitting within a few feet of the flower-heaped coffin of her husband, Mrs. Brunnen for the first time gave her version of the tragedy. She was aroused by stories reflecting upon her attitude and said she wished to give her side to stop them if she could. "I am as much in the dark as to the identity of the man who killed my husband as every body else. I suppose every man who has been successful in business has made enemies."

Mrs. Brunnen then admitted that she had had quarrels with her husband. One of them, she said, ended with her lying on the floor with a bullet wound in her right side and her husband standing over her with a smoking revolver in his hand. "My husband was good and a kind man when he was not drinking," said the widow. "When he was drinking he was like a man bereft. We lived happily together for many years."

ATTEMPT TO LEARN CAUSE OF AIRPLANE CRASH IN DAYTON

Lieutenant F. W. Neidermyer Killed in Fall Late Monday.

Dayton, March 14.—Officials at McCook Field today are trying to learn the cause of the crash of a Fokker monoplane, at 4:30 last night, which cost the life of Lieut. Fredrick W. Neidermyer, of Columbus, Mo. The dead flier and Lieutenant John A. MacReady were working on an aerial combat problem at the time. MacReady did not know of the accident until he saw the wrecked plane on the ground.

The machine fell in the bottoms of North Dayton. Several hundred persons saw the fall. Neidermyer saw service in France and was connected with various fields here during the war as instructor.

The impact was so great the motor was torn from the Fokker and buried in the ground. Lieutenant Neidermyer was a personal friend of R. A. Kelly of this city, and having visited in Xenia frequently during the past winter, was known to a great many other Xenians. On several occasions he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly here.

HUNDREDS OF CHINESE GIRLS ARE SOLD BY PARENTS TO OBTAIN MONEY TO LIVE

Prices Range From One to Hundred Dollars, Relief Workers in Famine Area Report—Situation Described as Beyond Description.

Shanghai, March 14.—Hundreds of girls are being sold in the famine districts of China at prices ranging from $1 to $100, each, in order that their parents may live, according to reports from missionaries and relief workers.

Commissioner Francis D. Pearce of the Salvation Army at Peking reports: Large numbers of girls were sold in China, last year by their parents and guardians in order to obtain the wherewithal to live.

From Honan province a correspondent writes to a Shanghai daily:

The famine situation in eastern Honan has become acute. More than half of the animals are dead and girls are being sold for a dollar each.

In an address before the American women's club of Shanghai, Miss Louise Hammond, a missionary from Wushih, Kiangsu province, painted a vivid picture of the fight the masses of Chinese in the famine districts are having to live.

"One of the evils to which the Chinese are being forced by the difficulty of providing rice for hungry mouths is the sale of their girls," said Miss Hammond.

"A child of four years can be bought from $7 to $10 but girls of 16 bring from $16 to $100. It is often the advantage of the mother-in-law to buy a prospective daughter as she can then have her services as a household servant before as well as after marriage. While these girls are often very happy and are sometimes adopted as the daughters of the purchasers, there are many tragic outcomes to the system."

SUPPORTERS OF TREATY TO GAIN ON FIRST VOTE

Rejection of First Amendment to Pact Expected Tuesday.

LEADERS CONFIDENT

Bare Two Thirds Favorable Vote Predicted By Senator Lodge.

Washington, March 14.—Administration senators rallied to the support of the four power treaty in the senate this afternoon and in a series of speeches urged the senate "not to nullify" the works of the armament conference by rejecting the Pacific pact.

Senator Lenroot, Republican, of Wisconsin, led off for the treaty supporters. He declared that rejection of the four power treaty would "wreck the conference" and bring the United States inevitably closer to the menace of war.

Washington, March 14.—Rejection in the senate today of the first proposal to amend the four-power Pacific treaty textually was expected to give its supporters their first victory, but not to reveal conclusively the problem line up on ratification. Only a majority vote is required by the senate rules to reject either an amendment or a reservation proposed to a treaty; a two thirds vote is necessary to ratify.

Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, commanded, as the battle over the treaty was renewed, an ample majority to insure the defeat of the pending amendment which was sponsored by Senators opposed to the pact, after he had first offered it as a reservation.

As modified by Robinson, the amendment would include China, Siberia, and the rest of the Asiatic mainland within the terms of the treaty and would provide not only for a conference between the four powers signatory to it whenever a dispute arose between them but of other nations having territorial or other interests in the Pacific and the far east.

The amendment would apply the league of nations plan to the Pacific and the orient and would, in the judgement of Senator Lodge, destroy the purpose and effect of the treaty. An almost solid phalanx of Republican votes was expected to be mustered against the amendment, with whatever Democratic support Senator Underwood, the Democratic leader, was able to command.

But the absence of a number of senators on both sides was considered likely to prevent a real test of strength or to furnish indisputable indication of what the final vote on ratification itself will probably be. Both Senator Lodge and Senator Underwood conceded that the support of the treaty, assured of, had been reduced close to the danger line by increasing democratic opposition, but they refused to entertain seriously the suggestion over or even up to that line.

"The treaty will be ratified," said Senator Lodge for the thousandth time and Underwood echoed his prediction. Both admitted however that they would probably command the necessary two thirds by only a slender margin, but they found encouragement in the familiar axiom that a miss is as good as a mile.

Considerably more speech making in opposition to the treaty was in sight as its opponents, Republican and Democratic, sought again to tear it to pieces and hold it up as a "dangerous alliance which would embroil the American people in war," but the ranks of the treaty's supporters were reported to be still unwavering under the treaty verbal onslaught directed by the opposition.

COMPROMISE NEAR IN CONSTRUCTION STRIKE IS BELIEF

Cleveland, March 14.—With both sides apparently standing firm—employers asking wage cuts ranging from 13 to 35 per cent and workers insisting upon the 1921 scale or an increase, men closely in touch with both sides indicated today that compromise was near in the tie up which has been in effect between the building trades council and Cleveland contractors since March 1.

A building program of more than $40,000,000 it is estimated, waits on the outcome of present negotiations. Several large structures, including the new Union Trust, building will not be built this year unless building costs approach normal, it was said, but lowered prices of materials and abolition of some of the "restrictive" rules imposed by the unions are believed to promise greatly lowered costs.

OVER 1,200 FANS SEE CHICAGO FIVE BEAT CINCINNATI

Before a crowd of between 1,200 and 1,500 fans, the Chicago Defenders basketball team won the title of middle western colored court champions by defeating the Cincinnati Y. M. C. A. five at the rink, Monday night, in the two game of a three-game series, by a score of 23 to 22.

Fans, who witnessed the pastime declared it to be the best exhibition of the court game ever staged on the rink floor.

It developed from the first that the outcome of the pastime would result in which of the contending teams would be in the lead when the game ended, as neither possessed sufficient superiority over the other to garner a permanent or even a safe lead. Ward's sensational shot from the center of the court, gave the Queen City five a 13 to 12 lead at the end of the half.

With Cincinnati holding the slender lead, Cincinnati supporters held a snake dance on the court in what was destined to be a premature celebration. When Norris, of Springfield replaced Rachford as referee at the beginning of the second half, his officiating proved unpopular and he was called from the court. Blitt's foul shooting kept the Chicago team in the running during the second period, while Anderson's continued luck from the floor, gave Cincinnati a 22 to 21 lead in the last 15 seconds of play. Blitt's goal as the whistle sounded, gave Chicago the game.

After the end of the game had discovered Chicago the winning team, John Roan Post, No. 517, colored American Legion, under whose auspices the game was staged, presented the Chicago team with a silver loving cup, which accompanied its title as middle-west champions. Dancing followed until one o'clock. The lineup and summary:

COACH SAYS NEW FOOTBALL RULE, GOOD

As predicted by football coaches and fans, the new rule for goal after a touchdown, has been abolished by the intercollegiate football rules committee.

In the place of the free kick which has won and lost many an important game, the rules committee has substituted a play from the line of scrimmage on or back of the five yard line of the defending eleven.

"I think the change is a good one," said Coach Jerry Katherman, of Central High School, when asked regarding his opinion of the change in rules. "It will mean that coaches will have to develop more offensive strategy to get that one point, instead of making it a cut and dried affair that the sidelines take no interest in. The fans will be interested in noting what type of play the coach will use in attempting to gain that extra point from scrimmage and will watch the new play closely, whereas in the past they paid little heed to the goal kick, beyond asking if the ball went over the bars after the kick."

The rules committee also made changes in the rules regarding shift plays, clipping from behind and substitutions but failed to make the numbering of players compulsory, leaving the recommendation as it stands. The initial kickoff was altered so that if the side winning the toss selects the goal, the other team has the choice of either receiving or kicking. The darkness rule was altered to permit the referee, with the consent of both captains to shorten final period at the half.

The rules governing substitutions were changed so that a player can not return to the field in the same half in which he is removed. The "one man in motion" regulation was rewritten so that the player leaving the scrimmage line before play must be at least five yards behind the line or when a forward pass is committed also approved a rule making officials blow their whistles as soon as the ball crosses the goal line or when a forward pass is completed behind the goal line.

WE WILL ALL MISS "UNCLE JOE" FROM CONGRESS.

There is little doubt that "Uncle Joe" Cannon could have remained in Congress till gathered to his fathers had he chosen to do so. Only once in 45 years was he defeated, and that was in a year when everything went Democratic. When the Democrats in the district discovered from the returns that "Uncle Joe" had been caught in the landslide they were all for holding another election and setting matters right. But the old gentleman said he needed a rest and sat around Danville for a couple of years. That was years ago. It never happened again.

"Uncle Joe" is and always has been the best loved man in Congress. Not that he was always sunny and easy going. There was little of the Pollyanna in his disposition. When he was Speaker the boys stood around and behaved or they got little opportunity to make their voices heard in the land.

The country is going to miss "Uncle Joe's" hard common sense and experience-born wisdom. His fellow Congressmen are going to miss that creased, white, circled old face with the cigar tilted at an acute angle. He was rough, but he was a statesman. He was whimsical, but he was a nation builder.

In the muck-raking days, when it was fashionable to assault the administration and to berate the country, somebody asked the Speaker what he thought about the United States.

"I think," said "Uncle Joe," without removing his cigar, "that it is a success." And it was, and it is. And "Uncle Joe" had a hand in making it so.

THE ELEVEN BILLION DOLLARS THAT EUROPE OWES US.

We loaned to the allies during the war a grand total of about $10,000,000,000. Accumulated and unpaid interest amounts to another billion. About one-third of the enormous sums that we raised during the war by taxation and the sale of Liberty bonds went out in these stupendous loans. There was no intimation at the time that the European allies would ever evade their payment or start an agitation for their cancellation.

Since the United States got neither indemnity money or territory as a result of the war and the Versailles treaty, while Great Britain and France acquired both, they should be willing, if they are especially desirous of getting out from under their debts, to trade the West Indies or islands in the Pacific for their notes held by the United States. If they find it inconvenient to pay these notes in money, an arrangement might be made whereby their obligations, at least in part, could be honorably satisfied by a fair relinquishment of a part of their territory to the United States. A proposition of that character from them would be entitled to consideration. It might or might not be found acceptable, depending on the details of the offer—whether the islands which they offered to sell us would be an asset or a liability, their value to this country and the sums that France and Great Britain might ask for them.

There is no probability that Congress would consent to the uncompensated remission of these debts. They amount to about $100 per capita of our population and uncompensated cancellation would be equivalent to our giving the borrowing countries a $100 Liberty bond for every man, woman and child in this country.

WHY THE ELECTRICAL INDUSTRY WILL GROW.

The indisputable reason for the future growth of the electrical industry as well as its past development is that a large and reliable supply of energy is an absolute necessity to our present civilization, says Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, chief consulting engineer of the General Electric Co.

"Just as the railroads seventy-five years ago organized the transportation of materials, so the transmission of energy to turn our wheels and fetch and carry is being supplied by the electrical industry," he says.

"Great factories which make electricity and supply it as other factories make and supply hats or stoves have come into being. Electrical energy is the only kind that can be easily, economically and simply conducted to the centers where it is needed, whether in small quantities for the vacuum cleaner or the house lamps, or in huge masses for great mills and factories. "Electricity is the best and in most cases the only reliable and economical form of energy. While transportation is the first essential to modern life, in that it brings together materials from all parts of the world, energy is next in importance because it must be available to turn the materials into articles for human use. Moreover, transportation itself is now largely dependent on electrical energy."

LIGHT INCREASES EFFICIENCY.

Poor and faulty illumination is the cause of great waste in the majority of industrial plants in the United States, says the Committee on Elimination of Waste in Industry, in its report dealing with accidents due to eye defects.

"The eye is involved in 10.6 per cent of all permanently disabling accidents," says the report. "One estimate places the loss due to faulty conditions above the entire cost of illumination."

"In 446 plants investigated, only 8.7 per cent were found to be in excellent condition, the other ratings being: Good, 32 per cent; fair, 29.1 per cent; poor, 18.8 per cent; very poor, 3.5 per cent; partly good, partly poor, 7.8 per cent."

DO YOU KNOW?

It is estimated that during the last five years the American people have been swindled out of $140,011,231 by worthless stock boosters.

Philadelphia has over 9000 manufacturing plants operated on the factory system, with capital invested amounting to $700,000,000.

Five persons in the United States paid taxes for 1919 on incomes of $5,000,000, while 65 persons show annual earnings of $1,000,000 or more.

The leading States in the Union in developed waterpower are New York, with 1,300,000 horsepower, and California, with 1,111,000 horsepower.

Mexico has 225 producing oil wells, with a daily output of 5,905,453 barrels. During the past year upward of 575,000,000 barrels of oil were produced.

IS EVERYONE READY FOR THE OPERATION

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

The changes and improvements of the post office, as arranged for when the present site was released a few weeks ago, are now about to be commenced.

Mr. Charles Weaver has brought his two fast horses, Ella Purcell, a 2:20 pacer and Downie C., a 2:45 trotter, in from their winter quarters. "Thack" expects to get them in fine condition for the spring campaign.

Lewis Post G. A. R. enjoyed a fine social occasion last night, a number of speakers being present, and refreshments served.

The workmen at the West Market street school building continue to bring bodies to light, as the excavation for the basement continues. A half dozen skeletons were unearthed yesterday, and a brass comb, which at one time adorned a woman's hair, was found.

Xenia Markets: Wheat 80c; corn 55c; oats 40c; flour $4 per barrel; hay $8; potatoes 90c per bushel; butter 18c per pound; eggs 12½c per dozen.

Jackie—If your hair becomes too oily before it is time for the regular shampoo, dust a little powdered orris root through it and let it remain for a few minutes while it absorbs some of the oil, after which give the hair a thorough shaking out in the fresh air—if that is possible.

Agnes C.—A mark left from a scald should not be a difficult thing to eradicate any more. Consult some doctor who specializes on skin treatment, or go to any of the hospitals for advice. In this same way you can obtain advice regarding the crooked finger joint.

Auburn—You can regain that auburn tint in your hair by using henna in the shampoo. If you send a stamped addressed envelope I shall be glad to mail you directions.

Henry—Massage will remove the pouch under the chin, which should always be followed by an astringent. With the palm of the hand, begin at the base of the throat and make an upward stroke to the end of the chin. The motion is somewhat like ironing. Repeat it many times until all the muscles have been thoroughly exercised. The astringent following this may be merely an ice rub or any reliable mixture for contracting and hardening the skin.

Reader—The mixtures made from honey and almonds will often agree with the skin when glycerine will not. These ingredients are best for the hands and not for the complexion. P. H. O.—I shall be glad to mail you a formula for improving the lashes if you send me a stamped addressed envelope.

Anxious—Cocoa butter will not encourage a growth of hair on the body as it sometimes does on the face. However, if you prefer not to use it try olive oil when massaging any part of the body to fill it out. It would be impossible to say how long it will take your legs to fatten. The skin will absorb the oil more quickly if you use a vibrator with the treatment.

Jack—You admit that you become excited first and then begin to stutter so to cure it you will have to gain control over yourself. Teach yourself a new habit just the same as you taught yourself the stuttering habit. Following a loss of balance you become self-conscious, then frightened, or as you put it "excited."

Before you begin to speak take a deep breath, or several of them, filling the lower part of the lungs until you feel the ribs spreading. This will oxygenize your blood until you can feel the brain clearing and a glow over the whole body through the quickened circulation. This will establish poise and you should begin to speak with ease taking pains to pronounce your words perfectly. It may seem a little awkward at first but keep at it and breathe deeply every time you feel any tendency to nervousness. A course in elocution would also help.

Tomorrow—Hollow Shoulders.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, The Gazette, and The Republican:

Your issue of March 11th contained an article entitled "Series of Plays To Be Given For Library Benefit."

The writer has been in a position to know that the Greene County Library receives all the revenue possible for the County Commissioners to appropriate for that purpose under the limitations of the tax laws of Ohio, and in order to do so the levy for other County funds is cut to the limit, and two important funds for which the law provides that bonds may be issued are kept up by their issuance.

It is evident that this method can not continue indefinitely, and to relieve the situation and provide a much needed revenue for the County Library, this series of plays has been undertaken.

The organizations conducting these entertainments are giving generously of their time, talents, and money to help the Library Board to conduct the Library so as to meet the needs of all the Community.

Patriotism and loyalty like charity, should begin at home.

Let every home loving, patriotic citizen investigate this condition and encourage this worthy cause by purchasing tickets for this series of entertainments.

Hoping this may find space in your valuable paper, and that all the citizens of city and county may feel it their duty to contribute to this good cause, I am,

Respectfully yours,
City Manager.

Rippling Rhymes

EARLY TRAINING.

I know I might achieve renown by calmly shooting some one down, as do some folks debased; but I'm old-fashioned in my ways, and feel that shooting other jays is not the best of taste. Obscure, unknown I plod along, and do not join the gaudy throng who play the murder game; they shoot some pilgrims as they go, and then, for seven years or so, they revel in their fame. Their names are blazoned everywhere, and from the public prints they stare, they're featured on the screen; they elbow out the seer and sage, uplift the platform and the stage, and gather in long green, I'm tempted oft to shoot a hick, or fill him full of arsenic, or some most deadly juice; but I was taught in childhood's day that it's a naughty thing to slay without some good excuse. My father used to say, "By jing, a human life's a sacred thing, when we get down to tacks, and one should ponder long and well before he journeys forth to fell a neighbor with an ax." The lessons that my parents taught seem foolish to a world distraught, jazz mad and murder-struck, and I feel sadly out of date as I keep up my humble gait and watch men run amuck. When tempted to remove a friend and thus to heights of fame ascend and gain a movie crown, I think of dad who always said, "It's wrong to cord up piles of dead to win a cheap renown."

DEPUTY SHERIFFS SERIOUSLY BURNED IN BLAST MONDAY

Springfield, March 14.—Walter Lewis and Joe Butts, deputy sheriffs, are in the Springfield city hospital, in a critical condition, as the result of burns they received in an explosion of gasoline, while raiding an alleged whiskey still in a secret underground room, in the yard of Clarence S. Lawless, 1704 Kenwood Avenue, Monday.

The deputies had previously placed Lawless under arrest, and had brought him to the county jail, and had returned to dismantle and confiscate the still and several gallons of contraband whiskey in the underground room, when the explosion took place.

The still was discovered in a specially prepared room underground, and to reach the place, it was necessary to descend into a dry well, about eight feet deep.

The explosion and rescue happened with such quickness that the men were out of the well before any one could give them help. Lewis was credited with saving Butts' life. The flesh from both of Butts' hands was burned away, and his face was slightly burned. Lewis suffered burns about the face and hands.

The finding of an alarm clock within the underground room, to which a wire, evidently leading to the house was attached, leads authorities to suspect that a trap had been set by the owner of the still, for anyone who would discover the room. If such is the case, serious charges will be brought against Lawless, according to officials. Lawless is held in jail without bond, according to officials.

Weekly Financial Review

President Harding's decision not to send delegates to the Conference at Genoa is undoubtedly dictated in some measure by the unfriendly attitude of the Senate toward the Washington Arms Conference treaties. The current statement of Senator Lodge that the Four Power Treaty is in danger and that, should it be defeated, the work of the Arms Conference would go for nothing illustrates the situation and shows why there is so much reluctance to incur any more foreign commitments to which we should have trouble in gaining the support of Congress. These factors, taken with the English political situation, still unsettled as it is, sufficiently explain recent reactions in exchange rates, which, however, all things considered have been very moderate.

Bonus Still a Menace

The fact that the soldiers' bonus instead of being disposed of, is still a serious menace, became evident in the early part of the past week, when the Ways and Means Committee determined upon a plan, previously only rumored, whereby the proposed payments should be made in "certificates" discountable at the banks and of course, rediscountable at Reserve banks. The plan has been denounced by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon as the worst form of the bonus yet proposed, and such it undoubtedly is. Dangerous inflation would necessarily result from it, with the result that the soldier would probably pay many times over in the form of higher prices what he received in cash. The danger inherent in such a scheme is so great that further comment is unnecessary. Fortunately there is good reason for believing that the measure will either be defeated or be killed by the President's veto.

Confidence in Industrials

The market has shown a growing confidence in the industrial outlook which is illustrated by the fact that both steel production and steel shares show encouraging increase in value, while the volume of output in a number of other lines, is distinctly increasing from week to week. Against this hopeful trade situation, the continued disclosure of unfavorable operating results for the past year has only limited influence. The Midvale Steel report, showing a deficit of $5,300,000, and that of the General Motors Company, with a deficit of $38,700,000, reflect conditions which have already been well known, and stocks accordingly show the buoyant effects of present business outlook rather than the depressing effects of past losses. A like situation in the sugar trade is seen in the gain of most of the Cuban issues in value, as well as of the domestic refining shares despite the $5,300,000 deficit reported by American Sugar for last year. New signs of encouragement are now seen in the shoe and leather trade, while authentic returns from the Western States point to a fresh development of new building, which has already put the volume of permits issued more than 100 per cent above the corresponding levels of last year.

Utilities and the Gas Decision

It has been only what was expected that the decision of the Supreme Court in the Consolidated Gas case should have exerted a powerful influence upon market sentiment, as well as upon quotations. Pronounced increases in gas stocks were, of course looked for and realized. The sweeping character of the decision lies in its establishment of the principle that the property of public utility concerns is entitled to a fair return of income. This has naturally influenced the stocks of other utility enterprises has resulted in a strong condition not only of gas shares, but also, sympathetically, of tractions and a variety of allied stocks. By releasing about $20,000,000 to Consolidated Gas and its subsidiaries the decision apparently renders dividends on these issues secure. Coupled with the fact that the Class I railroads thus far reporting show an increase of about $24,000,000 in net income over last year for January, the events of the past week make a much more promising picture of things for the share of public service concerns, from rails to tractions and gas issues.

Continued Financial Strength

The week's banking and financial reports show continued strength, reductions in so-called surplus reserves being of little importance under the present organization of reserve banking. Advances in accommodation at some of the Reserve banks show revival of demand on the part of commercial customers and run parallel to the better development of business in some parts of the country. Increasing confidence is expressed in the generous financing of the forthcoming crop season, bankers being convinced that the higher agricultural prices have come to stay. Meantime, there is no prospect that any demands likely to be brought to bear will exhaust more than a small lending power of the banking system. The ratio of the twelve Federal Reserve banks now stands at 77.8 per cent, a gain of 1.1 per cent, with a larger supply of gold on hand than ever, the total being this week $2,966,000,000.

Market Review and Outlook

The course of the market this week has afforded convincing evidence that it is resting on a firm foundation. Such slight reactions as take place now and then are without serious importance and indicate little more than temporary speculative fluctuations. The truth is, of course, that great absorbing power has been developed, which is capable of taking nearly all stocks, especially when they are offered at moderate concessions. This is due to the fact that most people who own them are imbued with the idea that their properties are worth more money, therefore are unwilling to part with them. Under such circumstances, and notwithstanding that the demand from the public is still modest, it does not require any great amount of buying about advances practically all along the line, although for special reasons certain stocks are more promising than others. This is particularly true with regard to the rails, the capital stocks of which have remained stationary for a number of years, with the result that the floating supply has been reduced to very small proportions.

Besides with the economies that have been introduced most railroads are now able to not only meet interest and other fixed charges but are also able to earn dividends; and under the terms of the Transportation Act it is not unlikely that a number of consolidations will take place, or at least be talked of, which gives them additional speculative qualities, thus making them very attractive to those who have an eye to the future. Renewed talk of the independent steel merger has again attracted attention to the stocks of these companies, but aside from this it is now well known that the steel and iron industry is gradually getting back to a state of normalcy, and of course the improved trade outlook is not confined to this branch, but is embracing nearly all divisions. Good reason is found, therefore, for the market's satisfactory performance, not withstanding that prices have been marked up so well since the first of the year. While some hesitation may be displayed now and then, the general trend still appears to be upward.

WASHINGTON C. H., ELKS PLANNING NEW HOME

The Washington, C. H. lodge of Elks has approved plans for a new home, to be erected at a cost of $100,000, it is said.

The proposed building, according to plans submitted by a Lima architect and approved by the committee, will be two story in construction, made of brick exterior, with commodious lodge apartments and a large dance floor and club room. The front portion of the ground floor will be used as store rooms, but the basement will be utilized by the lodge.

Proposals to house a theater in the building, have been abandoned, as such a move would add $75,000 to the cost, it is said.

Two-Feed Ration Biggest Egg Producer

Feeding grain alone to laying hens is the biggest mistake that poultry authorities are trying to correct. Grains contain only a small part of the necessary ingredients for egg-making. An increasing number of poultrymen are feeding a combination of Vitality Egg Mash and Scratch Feed. The Scratch Feed is scattered in litter, and the Egg Mash is fed dry in a hopper. One is for maintaining the body of the hen, the other is composed of egg-making ingredients scientifically mixed. It is not unusual for egg production of a flock to be doubled, and it may even be quadrupled.

We think so well of Vitality Poultry feeds that we sell and recommend them. We know that good quality ingredients only are used and would like to have every poultryman, who is not feeding Vitality, buy a sack of each for trial.

EXEMPTIONS FOR INCOME TAX PAYERS CALLED TO NOTICE

"Compensation for personal services in the form of salaries, wages, commissions, fees, tips, bonuses, and pensions form the principal item in the returns of millions of taxpayers. As a general rule, all such income is subject to tax. However, there are exceptions with which the taxpayer in the interest of self as well as the government, should familiarize himself," says Chas. M. Dean, Collector of Internal Revenue.

"Salaries paid to its officers and employees by a state, city, town, county or hamlet are exempt from taxation. Fees received by a notary public commissioned by a state are not taxable neither are fees paid jurors by a state or political subdivision thereof. Witnesses in law suits, however, even though subpoenaed by state's attorney are not considered employees of the state, and fees received by them are subject to taxation.

"The commissions of a receiver, appointed by a state, county or municipal court are not taxable. The commissions of an administrator or executor are taxable because they are not paid by a state or political subdivision, but out of the estate of the deceased.

"Salaries of federal officers and employees, including those of the territories and the District of Columbia, are subject to tax. Fees paid a juror by the Federal Government are taxable income, likewise the fees received by a referee, trustee or receiver under the National Bankruptcy Act. The fees received by a notary public commissioned by the District of Columbia are taxable.

"Annuities paid by the government to retired employees are subject to tax to the extent that the aggregate amount of the payments exceeds the amounts withheld from the basic salary, pay or compensation paid to employees in the civil service of the United States, in accordance with the provisions of the act, providing for pensions to government employees. Should be reported for income tax purposes. The total compensation of the employee should be reported on Form 1040. No corresponding deduction can be taken for the amounts withheld, inasmuch as such amounts are payments towards the purchase of annuities provided for in the act.

"Inquiries received indicate the impression in the minds of many persons that all school teachers are exempt from payment of income tax. Teachers are not exempt because engaged in educational work. As a rule salaries paid public school teachers are exempt but only for the reason that they are employees of a state or political subdivision thereof.

"Soldiers and sailors are allowed only the exemptions granted other individuals, $1,000 if single, or married and not living with wife or husband, $2,500 if married and living with wife or husband and the net income for 1921 was $5,000 or less and $2,000 if married and living with wife or husband and the net income was more than $5,000.

Income Tax Tips.

Insist upon Kellogg's the original Corn Flakes

—they're wonderful

"Say, Ma, I hope we don't have any bites while we're eating Kellogg's Corn Flakes, 'cause I like Kellogg's so much that the fish will get away!"

Kellogg flavor and Kellogg crispness are so different that there can be no comparison between Kellogg's Corn Flakes and imitations.

Little folks quickly say, "Get Kellogg's, Mother—please," because Kellogg's are never tough or leathery or hard to eat! Kellogg's are always so delicious that big bowls quickly disappear and eager little mouths appeal for more! And big folks appreciate the superiority of Kellogg's because their flavor is so inviting. Kellogg's are wonderful!

Insist upon Kellogg's—the kind in the RED and GREEN box that bears the signature of W. K. Kellogg, originator of Kellogg's Corn Flakes. NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT IT!

BECOMES ACTING SECRETARY FOR INDIA

London, March 14.—Sir Laming Worthington Evans, secretary of state for war and a member of the British delegation at the Washington conference, today became acting secretary for India.

Sir Laming fills the position made vacant by the enforced resignation of E. S. Montagu last week. It is understood that the two chief causes which led to Mr. Montagu's resignation were his pro-muslim policy and his action in publishing the demands of the Indian muslims without consulting the cabinet. These demands were in behalf of the Turkish muslims.

RESERVES OF GRAIN IN OHIO BELOW LAST YEAR'S MARK

The amount of all grains still remaining on Ohio farms is much below last year. Corn stocks are down to $3,700,000 as compared with $6,000,000 last year and 64,000,000 two years ago. Farmers still hold a little less than 7,000,000 bushels of wheat as compared with more than 9,000,000 last year and 11,000,000 two years ago. Oats stocks on farms are barely half as large as a year ago, and now stand at 14,000,000 bushels as compared with 31,000,000 a year ago and 10,000,000 in 1920 according to the regular monthly crop report of C. J. West, Agricultural Statistician for the State Federal Crop Reporting Service. Except for wheat farm grain prices are not much below last year.

Stated in another way, 40 per cent of last year's corn crop is still in farmers' hands while a year ago they held 47 per cent and two years ago 58 per cent. Farmers in Ohio hold one fourth of last year's wheat crop as compared with 30 per cent a year ago and 20 per cent two years ago. The oats crop shows a similar percentage decline to that of corn and wheat. In the United States, the corn on farms amounts to 1,300,000,000 bushels or 43 per cent of the crop as compared with 1,600,000,000 bushels a year ago. The corn belt states all show reduction in stocks of corn on farms but the Southern and Eastern States have heavier supplies on farms than last year. United States farm wheat supplies are estimated at 131,000,000 bushels this year and 217,000,000 a year ago. Oats supplies are 434,000,000 as compared with 634,000,000 a year ago.

The Ohio average corn probe now stands at 55 cents per bushel and last year it was 60 cents but was $1.45 two years ago. The State price of wheat is $1.29 as compared with $1.70 last year and $2.31 in 1920.

CIVIC BODIES AROUSED
Athens, March 14.—Civic bodies here are aroused over the destruction of the old Flatiron Elm, a tree which has shaded the village watering trough for more than 100 years. The old tree was cut down because it interfered with a filling station, it is said. It was down before adequate objection could be made. The tree was one of the landmarks of the city and stood almost in the center of Athens.

GOOD FOR THAT "FLU" COUGH
For quick relief from the wearing coughs that "hang on" after the grippe or influenza, take Foley's Honey and Tar. Mrs. K. D. Drake, Childs, Md., writes: "After an attack of the flu that left me with a severe cough nothing seemed to relieve me until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar, which I can highly recommend." It is also good for croup, whooping cough and colds. It puts a soothing, healing coating over the inflamed surfaces, cuts the phlegm, eases hoarseness, clears the air passages. (Sayre & Hemphill).

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

ANSWERED LETTERS
Mother-of-Four: "I would like to know if painted kitchen furniture is harder to care for than oak? My cabinet and tables are oak and I have been thinking of doing them in white, but if it would make them harder to care for I do not want them that way."

Answer: Yes, white paint on kitchen furniture requires a good deal of care. But if I were in your place I would paint the pieces putty color. This does not show every smudge as white paint does, and yet it gives the sanitary effect of a gleaming white kitchen.

Interested Reader: "Our house has deep old-fashioned windows. Should the curtains hang on a line with the wall, or should they be set in the jutout where the window is? If the latter, how could one put up valances? Each sill is as broad as a window seat."

Answer: The so-called "glass curtain" (that is, the white scrim or muslin curtain) should be hung very near the glass in the jut-out. The cotton or silk valance and long side-curtains should be put around the opening on a line with the wall—not sunk into the nook containing the window. You will find this effect very pretty.

Anonymous: "How can I remove stains from a white table cloth caused by spilling Worcestershire sauce?"

Answer: This is a very difficult stain to remove. Try Javelle water (which most druggists sell) following the directions on the bottle. After applying the Javelle water, dip the stained part in a little water to which you have added a few drops of ammonia, then rinse in cold clear water.

P. S.: "Kindly give me a good fudge recipe."

Answer: Here is an excellent one sent in by another reader: Molasses Fudge: Melt one-fourth cup of butter in a large saucepan. Mix together in a bowl 1 cup of white sugar, one-fourth cup of top milk or cream, and one-fourth cup of molasses. Add this mixture to the melted butter in the frying pan and stir till it comes to a boil; then let it boil two and one-half minutes, still stirring. Add 2 squares of unsweetened chocolate, finely shaved, and let boil up for five minutes, stirring frequently. Take from fire, add one and one-half teaspoons of vanilla, beat for about two full minutes—or until it is quite thick—and pour it into a buttered dish or pan. Cut into squares when almost hard. (One cup of cocoa-powder may be added instead of the shaved chocolate, if desired.)

A Reader: Please print directions for dyeing a mouse-colored fur neck piece black."

Answer: Fur cannot be dyed at home.

E. Z.: "How is white French Ivory cleaned?"

Answer: With either denatured or grain alcohol—never with water.

A. M. E.: "How can I darken small areas on an imitation leather davenport where the leather finish has peeled off?"

Answer: Buy a small tube of artists' oil paint at an art-supply store, and paint the bare areas with this. If necessary, soften the paint with a little naphtha or gasoline.

HELEN HUNTER'S HUSBAND

BY JANE PHELPS

THE WAY OF THE TRANSGRESSOR IS HARD CHAPTER 63

It was fully an hour before Helen was able to talk coherently. Then under Jack's urging she made a clean breast of everything.

"But, Jack, you must believe there wasn't anything wrong between us; that I was just a silly foolish thing whom he flattered and made restless because he kept telling me you didn't do enough—for me—didn't give me good—times enough." She ended with a sob.

Jack did believe her; he did think her absolutely guiltless save as to being with him. At first he felt inclined to take her in his arms tell her he would take care of her; that she mustn't worry. Then panorama-like their married life flashed before him.

He recalled her extravagance; her gambling against his wishes; her absolute refusal to take care of her home, and so help him save; her insistence that she should always be dressed and all that; but I never cared for him, really. I couldn't because I always loved you—Jack—you believe me—oh, Jack—you must! I am so unhappy."

Again he was tempted to soothe her, but again memories crowded upon him.

"You remember I asked you not to be with him. If you had loved me, my wishes would have had some weight. They never have in anything. You never have been a wife to me, Helen, not a real wife. I have wanted a home; children, perhaps; to save something; and have you tried to do your part? When I looked you in the face, you were a woman, I was a child. You leave me from him, you threatened to leave me, divorce me. It seems I am the one who should talk of divorce—and with reason. Not you!"

"Oh, but Jack! you wouldn't divorce me, you couldn't! I've been true to you."

"Do you think anyone will believe that, when you are proved to be Mrs. Brown, a woman sailing under a false name; the companion of a forger? You admit you have been meeting him almost daily without my knowledge, while I have been struggling to make money enough to keep you happy; to gratify your extravagant tastes! There isn't a judge on the bench who wouldn't give me a divorce—knowing all the circumstances."

"But—Oh, Jack!" Helen wailed. "Do you think they will find me? Know I am that Mrs. Brown?"

"I think it very likely! They probably will find out with whom he was intimate, whom he entertained, and as much more as they want to. It isn't easy for people to cover up their tracks, you know."

"But I bought a new hat—and Nell got me a veil! And I'll never wear that dress and hat again that I wore with him—and oh, you mustn't let them find me, Jack! her childishness making an appeal he found it hard to resist."

"I suppose the hat was charged to me," he said after a moment.

"Yes, I didn't have money enough to pay for it!"

"See here, Helen, if I consent to help you get away, if I—in time forgive you for disgracing me, how am I to be sure you won't do the same thing, or something worse again? your gambling, your extravagance, all have led you this horrible position. Not you alone, but me."

"If you will take me away, Jack; will believe me—don't divorce me, Jack! I couldn't live without you—your love—I'll—why, Jack, I'll do anything you say. We'll let the maid go, and I'll wash all the dishes and clean the place and I won't gamble any more, never touch a card if you say so; and I'll help you save and I'll—the words piled on each other so ages were her promises."

"If you really mean all you say! If you will keep those promises. I will help you go away, and—after—a time when I am convinced you really have turned over a new leaf—I may—go on with you. I may reconsider—the divorce. Now go to bed. No!—as she was about to throw her arms about his neck—"We'll leave all that out for the present. I have to be sure I haven't grounds for a divorce first."

KNOW WHAT YOU WANT
The man who does not know what he wants in life is in exactly the same position as the ship without a pilot. Neither one will get anywhere—except through a rare accident.

You must know not only what you want, but have a plan for going after it.

It is even better to aim and work for the thing you want and fail to get it.

URGES ATTENDANCE
Pomeroy, March 14.—Mayor Savidge is urging that men and women voters of Pomeroy attend council meetings, held every two weeks. The mayor said many kicks have been made recently concerning work of councilmen. He believes matters will be helped if taxpayers attend the sessions of the town's legislature and become better acquainted with village affairs.

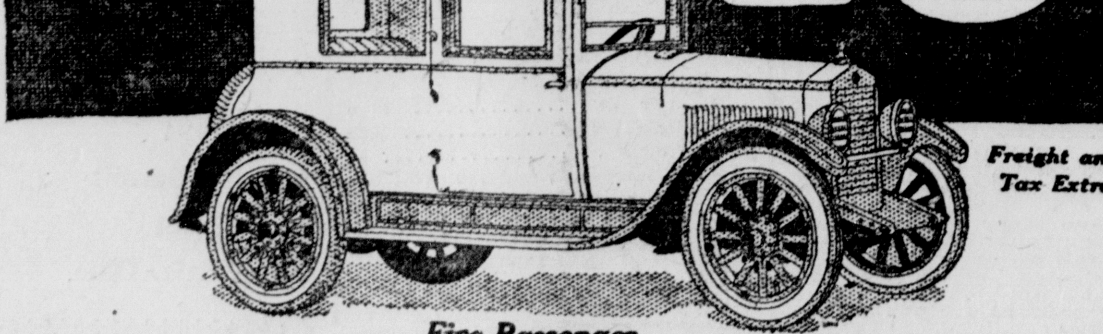

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS
Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.
